

Bloomsday Weekend Menu

Soup

Protestant Soup: With Oxtail, Leeks, Sweet Corn, Turnips, Carrots, Peas and Cabbage. Served with Ninth Street Bakery Soda Bread.

$4/$7

"They say they used to give pauper children soup to change to protestants in the time of the potato blight" -Leopold Bloom

Starters

Circe Plate: Bacon Wrapped Oysters atop Buttered Soda Bread. Garnished with Lemon and Watercress.

$11

"As God is looking down on me this night if ever I laid a hand on them oysters!"-Mary Dedalus

Molly's Pisto Madrilenos: Thick Sliced Ham Topped with Eggs and an Eggplant Melody.

$10

"O Mrs. Dwenn now whatever possessed her to write after so many years to know the recipe I had for pisto madrilenos."

Entrees

Knocknacree Pork Roll: Pork Tenderloin Stuffed with Banger Sausages and Bacon. Served over Mashed Potatoes with a Honey Cream Sauce.

$16

"Milly served me that cutlet with a sprig of parsley." -Leopold Bloom recalls, ordering his lunch.

Stewed Cockles MacDowell: Stewed Mussels in a Sherry Cream Sauce Over Mashed Potatoes.

$14

"Poor Father! With all his faults she loved him still when he sang Tell, me Mary, how to woo thee...and they stewed cockles and lettuce with Lazenby's salad dressing for supper..."